THE Jewish Culture Festival in Krakow, one of the most important and largest events of its kind in the world, not only introduces the living Jewish tradition to a wide audience, but also offers a share of the joy in creating tradition. Workshops conducted by people from both Ashkenazy and Sephardic culture, attract numerous attendees. The Festival creates a bridge where Poles and Jews meet to strengthen the process of understanding and reconciliation. The Jewish Culture Festival in Krakow is a symbol of tolerance, pluralism, and the faith that we have a chance, through the celebration of Jewish culture and the celebration of life, to build mutual relations based on truth and respect.
